The Alabama Best Practices Center

Professional Learning for Teachers and Leaders

www.bestpracticescenter.org

A program of A+ Education Partnership

The Alabama Best Practices Center empowers teachers and administrators to develop the competence, commitment, and courage to do whatever it takes to improve student learning through collaborative networks.

Key Leaders Network

Connecting district and school leaders statewide to challenge each other to raise expectations and foster effective practices of teaching and learning in their schools.

Powerful Conversations Network

Through cutting-edge professional learning and intentional networking, teachers hone their knowledge and skills as they seek new and better ways to engage their students.

Instructional Partners Network

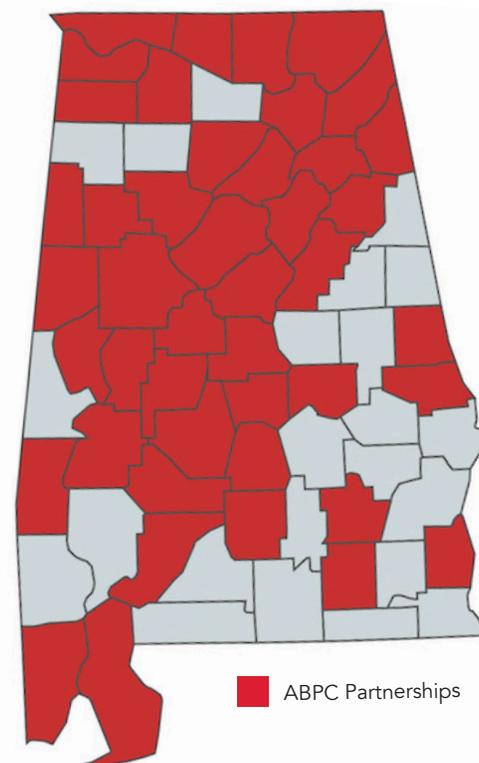

Maximizing the effectiveness of Instructional Coaches/Partners to strengthen teaching and learning.

Other Tools

- Instructional Rounds
- Specific theme-based institutes
- Professional learning blog
- Online professional learning and resources

The Alabama Best Practices Center serves 87 of the state's 137 districts with each of our 14 Professional Networks and other professional learning opportunities annually.

The Alabama Best Practices Center connects educators from across the state to each other, providing cutting-edge professional learning for teachers and leaders and developing the next generation of leaders in Alabama education.

A+ Education Partnership created the Alabama Best Practices Center in 1999 to fill the need for effective professional learning.

Behind every successful student is a well-supported teacher. It is critical to ensure that educators have access to the support and professional learning they need.
That's why the Alabama Best Practices Center is here.

“What the ABPC does beautifully is work with districts and schools collaboratively to respect teachers and to respect leaders, offering great tools and building coalitions of schools that can learn and work together.”

- Ron Berger
EL Education

“The networking has been phenomenal! There’s nothing like being able to pick up the phone and call a colleague in North or West Alabama and say ‘Hey, I hear y’all are doing great things. Can I bring a group of my teachers to your school to learn?’”

- Reevice Girtman
Phenix City Schools

“They have taught us as leaders how to find best practices, how to internalize them, and our goal is to get those best practices in every classroom with every student to make a huge impact on student achievement.”

- Kristie Goodwin
Oxford City Schools

Over 90 professional learning opportunities for teachers and leaders each year!
